In geometry, a sphere packing is an arrangement of non-overlapping spheres within a containing space. The spheres considered are usually all of identical size, and the space is usually three-dimensional Euclidean space. However, sphere packing problems can be generalised to consider unequal spheres, n-dimensional Euclidean space (where the problem becomes circle packing in two dimensions, or ...

Models of the Universe are described and classified into three major categories: Historic, Expanding, and Cellular. It is shown that all expanding universe models violate the cosmic edge and containment principle. The multi-millennium conflict between the two major world views --the changing dynamic universe and the unchanging stable universe-- is highlighted.
